STOP

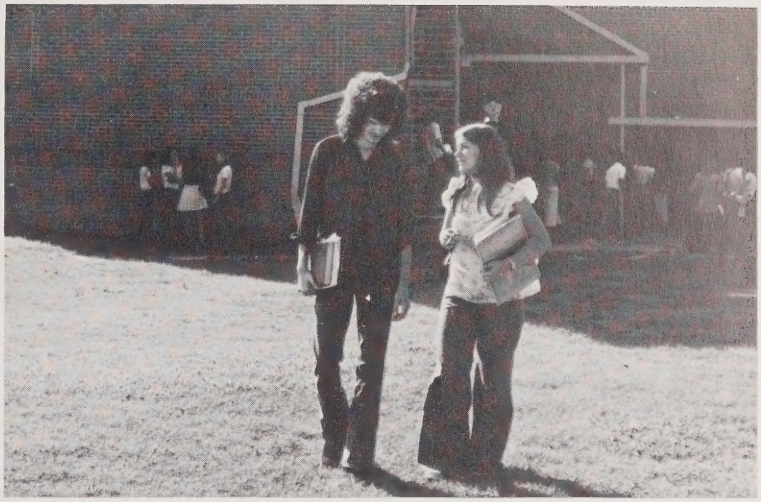
. . . just one minute and live today. We will look back on this important part of our learning and growing only to find that we may have missed something because we did not take the time to stop.

LOOK

. . . around at the people we encounter every day. Have we taken the time to look at them as people with something to offer or just as faces in a crowded hallway?

LISTEN

. . . to the people that we work with at least five days of the week. They have something to say that can offer a new way of thinking, learning, and living for all of us.



STOP, LOOK, LISTEN . . . three important but often forgotten aspects of everyday living. An awareness of STOP, LOOK, and LISTEN develops sensitivity between people and better communication.

Dedication

The 1975 TAR-BO-RAH is dedicated to a woman of great tolerance and understanding. She is respected by the students of Tarboro Senior High as an educator, an individual, and a friend.

A teacher of typing and basic business, her deep interest in students goes beyond the classroom. Her willingness to give special attention to the needs of other people and her work on the Junior-Senior prom mark her as a person whose concern is the total well-being of the student. Such concern and warmth are rare, but they strongly describe the person to whom this annual is dedicated - MRS. SANDRA JONES.

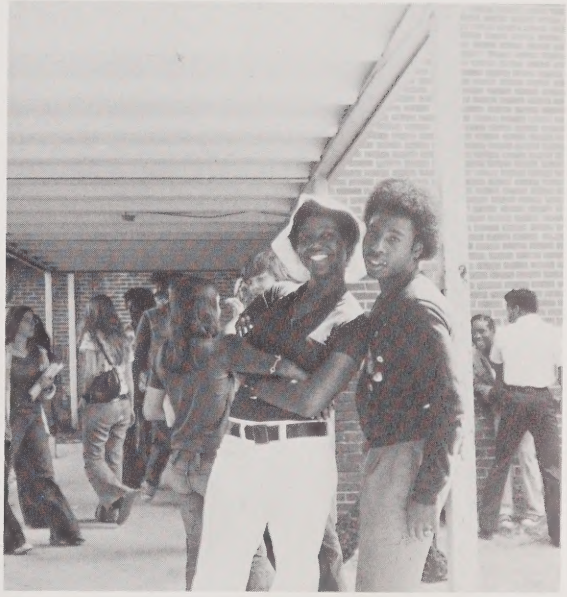
Senior Class



My soul counseled me and charged me to listen for voices that rise neither from the tongue nor the throat . . .

But now I have learned to listen to silence, to hear its choirs singing the songs of ages, chanting the hymns of space, and disclosing the secrets of eternity.

Outstanding Seniors

Lynette Plemmer

LYNETTE PLEMMER is known for her energy, displayed often in her skipping through the halls. She is well liked and well known for her unusual little laugh. Her personality is balanced by a sense of humor and a serious side, enabling her to be a natural leader.

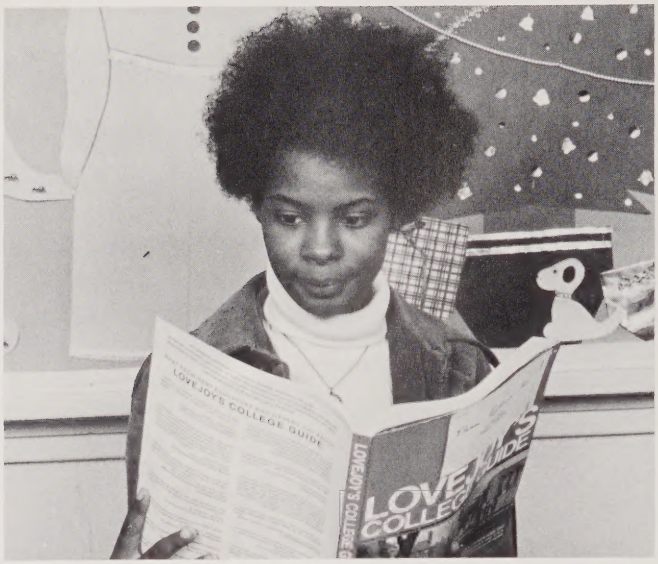
The title of "Best All Around" belongs to DEXTER WILLIAMS for his many contributions to school life. A football player for three years, Dexter made all-conference this year. His acute sense of humor and easy-going personality are appreciated by his peers.

Dexter Williams

Frances Brinson

A leader who can allocate responsibility and guide the work involved, FRANCES BRINSON has been the nucleus of the TAR-BO-RAH staff. Active and talented, her involvement in music and drama has enhanced performances. Dependability describes Frances best; she always comes through.

Outstanding Seniors



"Trucking" down the hall with a load of books - that's ANNETTE CLARK. Though appearing quiet, she is attentive and quick to challenge what she doe not grasp. Annette excels in academics, but she enjoys poetry and art as pastimes. Her label in the Senior Class is "Most Studious."

Annette Clark

Busy and conscientious are descriptive of SHARON MORGAN, whose leadership is evident in the many organizations to which she belongs. Serving as co-editor of THE VIKING PRESS, secretary of the Student Council, and president of JMHA keeps her busy; and her performance is always superb because of her conscientiousness.

Sharon Morgan

A warm smile and kind heart combine to make KAREN RICKS a sincere person. Her concern for the school, involvement in many activities, and diligence in both academics and extracurricular activities have earned her the title of "Best All-Around." The Pep Club and THE VIKING PRESS have been better because of her leadership.

Karen Ricks

Outstanding Seniors

Around TSH, DENESE JONES exemplifies school spirit very well, whether in sports or just in school. She belongs to many clubs and is involved. Though small in size, Denese has an enormous voice, an asset in both cheerleading and the Concert Choir.

Denese Jones

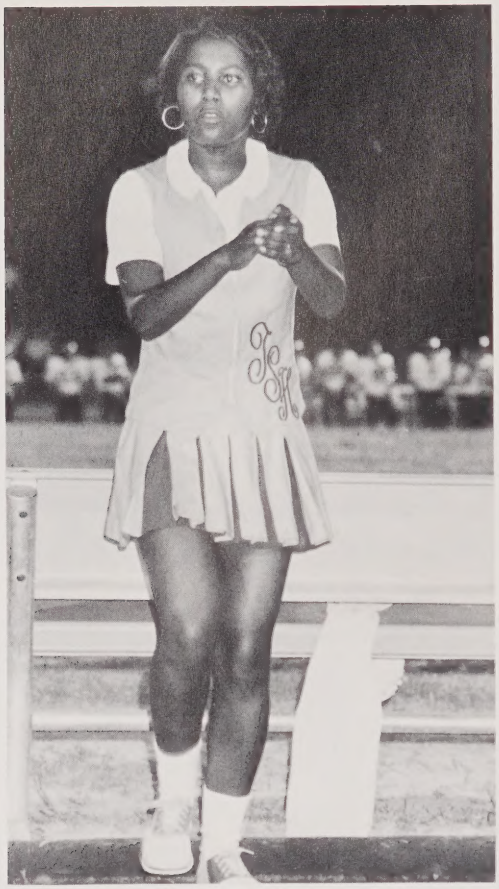
Laughter and smiles typify JOY HINSLEY. Her scholarship, leadership, service, and character make her able to vary her talents for whatever task she tackles. Joy's musical ability has contributed to the music department and school musicals, and she plans to study music next year.

Joy Hinsley

JAN STRICKLAND bubbles with enthusiasm. Her well-rounded personality and interests enable her to perform multifarious tasks - all well. Talented and dependable, she makes her presence known through voiced opinions which are thought-provoking.

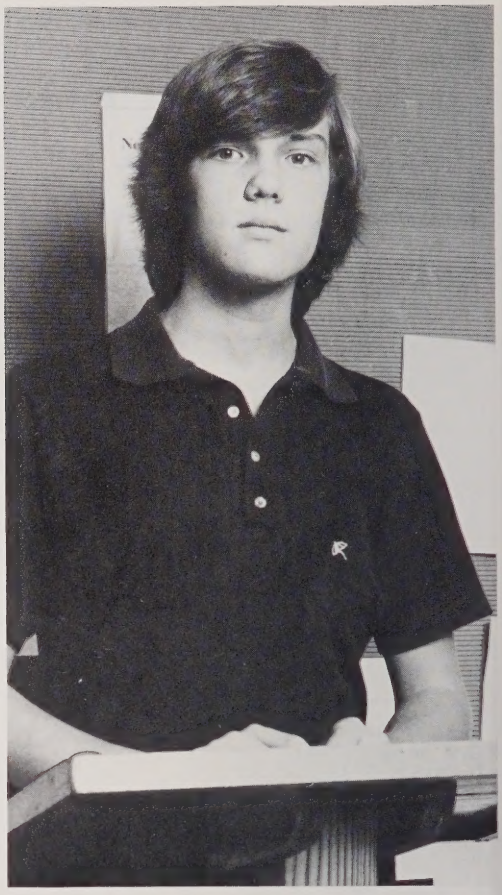
Jan Strickland

Outstanding Seniors



Felecia Stanley

A big smile and loud voice combine to make FELECIA STANLEY a well-liked person at TSH. Her tremendous energy was evident at the games as she cheered, and her strong alto voice was heard as she sang with the Ensemble. An outgoing personality and individuality sum up her unique traits.



John Brooks

JOHN BROOKS is characterized by both technical thinking and reasonable attitude. His talents for leadership are evident, and his awards and honors verify he is deserving. His concern for progressive change led to his being selected Student Council Co-President.

Ellen Clark

Recognized for her diligence and organization, ELLEN CLARK was voted "Most Studious" by her peers. Though she excels in all academics, her main interest seems to be science. Ellen's sincerity of purpose is evident in all her work.

"Do not wait for extraordinary circumstances to do good; try to use ordinary situations."

Vikings Post Winning Season

The 1974 Tarboro Senior High Vikings recorded a winning season under new head coach James Brett. With sixteen returning seniors, the Vikings posted a 6-4 record. Though the Vikings lacked experience in certain positions, several players were able to play both offense and defense.

The Vikings used a balanced attack on offense with a few tricks, the belly-series predicated on faking the football, and the Notre Dame 4-4 defense.

The conference record was 4-2 with six players making All-Conference and four receiving honorable mention.

Junior Varsity

The Junior Varsity posted a winning season after getting off to a slow start. Under new head coach Archie Moseley, the J.V.'s were 4-3 overall and 4-2 in conference play.

The J.V.'s were top contenders for first place in the conference; however, a loss ended their hope of championship. They moved up to the Varsity for the last game of the season.

The Vikings finished 2-10 in the conference and 2-17 overall. Though the Vikings possessed great potential, they were hampered by a small bench, several inexperienced players, and lack of enthusiasm at times.

The Vikings had only three seniors; and for some of the juniors, it was their first season. Coach Moss brought up the five J.V. starters for the conference tournament.

'75 J.V. Conference Champs

The Junior Varsity basketball team became Number One, 3-A Conference Champions with a record of 11-5.

Coach John Harris attributes the success of his team to enthusiasm and their enjoyment of the sport. "They gave me their best," said Coach Harris.

Natural ability, hard work, dedication, good coaching - all these combined for a winning season and a trophy for Tarboro Senior High.

Coached by Jon Cooley, the wrestling team has done well for its first year. Fourth place in the conference was achieved, though the team worked against such odds as no mat and only one home match.

Three wrestlers - Neal Brown, Dennis Dozier, Derek Lloyd - placed second in the conference. Losing only three seniors this year means a good return of lettermen next year.

Fall, 1974, Brings Girls' Tennis

In existence for the first time, the girls' tennis team was impressive, placing fourth in the conference. With several good young players, the team may be a serious contender next year. The girls are coached by Miss Judy Scott.

A good year for the 1974 Vikings - they posted an 11-6 overall record and finished second in the conference play with a 7-4 mark.

The team did not have a senior on the squad; therefore, the outlook appears bright. Four Vikings made the all-conference team, and three received honorable mention.

In Appreciation

Our thanks and appreciation to Mr. Ike Terrell for his time and effort in providing superior photography for this yearbook. We are indebted to him for the entire organization section and practically all of the basketball and wrestling sections.

We salute Mr. Terrell not only for his photography but also for his dedication to educational endeavors. We know the 1975 TAR-BO-RAH has benefited from his work.
